

Metadata of the chapter that will be visualized online

Chapter Title	Andreades, Andreas (1876–1935)
Copyright Year	2019
Copyright Holder	The Editor(s) and (if applicable) and the Author(s)
Corresponding Author	Family Name	Bigg
	Particle
	Given Name	R. J.
	Suffix
	Organization/University	Retired Scholar and Author
	City	Newbury
	Country	UK
	Email	robert.bigg@mac.com
Abstract	Andreas (sometimes Andrew) Andreades was born in Corfu. His education (in France and England) and his academic affiliations were pan-European, ranging from a doctorate in Law and Political Science from Paris University to the Bavarian Academy in Munich, the Romanian Academy in Bucharest and the Institut d’Egypte at Cairo. He became a lecturer at Athens University in 1902 and Professor of Economics in 1906.

A

Andreades, Andreas
(1876–1935)

R. J. Bigg
Retired Scholar and Author, Newbury, UK

Andreas (sometimes Andrew) Andreades was born in Corfu. His education (in France and England) and his academic affiliations were European, ranging from a doctorate in Law and Political Science from Paris University to the Bavarian Academy in Munich, the Romanian Academy in Bucharest and the Institut d’Egypte at Cairo. He became a lecturer at Athens University in 1902 and Professor of Economics in 1906. The bulk of his writings were in Greek and French, effectively reducing his audience amongst English economists in the early twentieth century. His interests were largely in the monetary and economic history of Greece. His financial history of ancient Greece was translated into English, but he was also concerned with contemporary Greek problems and Eastern Europe. In the late 1920s and early 1930s, he lectured widely in Europe (UK, France, Belgium, Italy) and in Egypt.

This chapter was originally published in The New Palgrave: A Dictionary of Economics, 1st edition, 1987. Edited by John Eatwell, Murray Milgate and Peter Newman

In England Andreades was perhaps best known for his History of the Bank of England, translated into English from the French in 1909. This was the first complete history of the Bank and Foxwell’s introduction to the translation describes it as the best general survey of the subject which exists . . . . The author shows a remarkable familiarity with English methods and habits of thought, and his criticism is usually most just and temperate, and full of suggestion and stimulus. (pp. xxiv–xxv)

Andreades attended the Paris and Danube Conferences in the interwar period and was a delegate to the assembly of the League of Nations in 1923, 1924 and 1929. He was chairman of the Greek League of Nations Union and president of the Athens branch of the Anglo-Hellenic League. He was honoured by the UK (CBE), Italy, Romania and Bulgaria, amongst other foreign countries.

Selected Works

1901. Essai sur la fondation et l’histoire de la Banque d’Angleterre: 1694–1884. Paris: A. Rousseau. (Doctoral thesis, Université de Paris).
1904. L’impôt direct en Grèce et son evolution. Paris: Giard & Brière.
1906. The currant crisis in Greece. The Economic Journal 16(66): 41–51.
1909. History of the Bank of England, translated by Christabel Meredith with a preface by

57

H.S. Foxwell. London: P.S. King & Son.

58

(1924, 1966 4th edition with a new introd. by Paul Einzig).

59

60

1915a. The financial theories of Aristotle and his

61 school, with special reference to book 2 of the economics. Athens.

62

63

1915b. Les finances de la Grèce. Journal des

64

économistes (avril et mai 1915). Reprinted

65

Paris: Librairie Félix Alcan.

66

1919a. Les progrès économiques de la Grèce.

67

Journal des économistes (janvier et février

68

1919). Reprinted Paris: F. Alcan.

69

1919b. La Grèce devant le Congrès de la Paix. la

70

Revue politique et parlementaire (février

71

1919). Reprinted Paris: Bureaux de la Revue

72

politique et parlementaire.

73

1922. La législation ouvrière en Grèce. Genève.

1930. Philip Snowden: The man and his financial policy, translated from the French by Dorothy

Bolton. London: P. S. King.

1932. Les finances de l'empire japonais et leur

évolution (1868–1931). (Questions du temps présent). Paris: F. Alcan.

1933. A history of Greek public finance, revised and enlarged, translated by Carroll

N. Brown ed. Cambridge, MA: Harvard University Press.

74

75

76

77

78

79

80

81

82

83

Bibliography

84

Keynes, J.M. 1935. Obituary: Andrew Andréadès

(1876–1935). Economic Journal 45 (179): 597–599.

Reprinted in Collected works. Vol. 30, 20–22.

85

86

87

Writings

Author Queries

The New Palgrave Dictionary of Economics
Chapter No.: 288-2

Query Refs.	Details Required	Author's response
AU1	Please be aware that your name and affiliation and if applicable those of you co-author(s) will be published as presented in this proof. If you want to make any changes, please correct the details now. Note that corrections after publication will no longer be possible.	OK
AU2	Abstract is required. Please provide.	See correction to original on p.1 meta data

Note:
If you are using material from other works please make sure that you have obtained the necessary permission from the copyright holders and that references to the original publications are included.

See correction to line 87 of text - 'Collected Works' should be Collected Writings